VERY SUDDEN DEMISE

CHARLES W. BURKET FOUNB DEAD IN HIS HOME

Charles W. Burket, of the firm of Burket & Goss, sheet metal workers, was found dead in his home, 520 East Harvard, Wednesday, at about 2 p. m. He had been suffering from heart and kidney trouble for more than a year and of late had been compelled to remain at home from his business frequently. He was intending to stay at home quietly all day yesterday, but was not confined to his bed, so Mrs. Burket, accompanied by Mrs. C. D. Lusby, went to Los Angeles on some business matters. At about 2 o'clock a neighbor, Mrs. Lowenstein, heard the continual ringing of the telephone bell, and, knowing of Mr. Burket's condition, at last became uneasy and went in to investigate. She found Mr. Burket lying on the floor in Dana's room, unconscious. Dr. Bryant was hastily summoned and later Dr. Chsae, but their continued efforts failed to revive him.

Charles W. Burket was born on the battlefield of Gettysburg, Pa., July 1, 1863, amid the roar of the guns and the awful pandemonium of the first day's battle. When a young man he moved to West Sharon, Iowa, and there, on May 28, 1891, he married Emma Goss. Their only son, Dana, was born about two years later. In 1903 the family moved to Glendale, where after working at his trade, that of a sheet metal worker, for several years, he established, in partnership with his father-in-law, Mr. Goss, a business in that line, which soon grew to large proportions, so that additional quarters were necessary and the new building is now in process of construction. During the pastorate here of Rev. Bede A. Johnson, he joined the First Methodist congregation and it was the wish of Mrs. Burket and Dana that Rev. Johnson preach the funeral sermon. The services will be held at the Pulliam Undertaking Co. parlors tomorrow, 9 a. m. Interment will be in Forest Lawn.

LOWE-HOWE WEDDING

Rev. C. R. Norton was called upon Wednesday to officiate at the wedding of his friend, Mrs. Cleo Howe, of 322 West Eulalia street, when she was united to Claude J. Lowe, who represents a large eastern wholesale drug firm in the west and makes his home in Los Angeles. The pretty ring ceremony was performed in the presence of only a few witnesses and took place at the bride's home at 5 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Lowe are spending their honeymoon at San Diego and will be at home to their friends at 322 West Eulalia after August 1st.

Rev. Norton relates a very interesting incident in connection with his acquaintance with the bride. When at the Oakland station, returning from the Department G. A. R. Encampment a year ago, he was pleased to assist a lady with her baggage. His G. A. R. button was his credential card and her bearing recommended her so they became acquainted and found themselves congenial. Some time after that the lady moved to Los Angeles and later came to Glendale keeping in touch with her new-found friend. When she was in need of the services of a minister she called upon him and he was more than glad to perform the service for her.

THEY MADE GOOD

MEN OF CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH SERVE APPETIZING SUPPER

The regular weekly "Church Night" supper at Central Christian Church was cooked and served last evening by a committee of men, headed by A. L. Lawshe and Rev. C. A. Cole, who were assisted by Harry Stevenson, J. F. Mallory, Fred Thompson and O. L. Kilborn. The feast was planned, cooked and served entirely by the men. The bill of fare comprised a delicious Irish stew, corn on the ear, vegetable salad, bread and butter, stewed apricots, cake and iced tea. There were 52 people served and all seemed to enjoy the feast immensely. Immediately after supper the regular monthly meeting of the Workers' Cabinet of the Bible School was held and some exceedingly interesting stunts planned for "surprise Sundays." The prayer meeting followed, the subject being "John, the Voice in the Wilderness." Fred L. Thompson was the leader and he made the study of this great character in Bible history very interesting.

DR. SOPER REJOICES

HIS SON, PROF. EDMUND D. SOPER, CALLED TO HIGH POSITION

Dr. Julius Soper, pastor of the Casa Casa Verdugo Methodist Church, recently received a copy of the New York Christian Advocate of June 19, in which was the following reference to his gifted son, Prof. Edmund D. Soper:

"In pursuance of its adopted policy of developing graduate courses in 'Missions and Religious Education,' Northwestern University (at Evanston, near Chicago), has called those brilliant teachers from Eastern Theological Schools. . . . Among these is Dr. E. D. Soper, of the Chair of Missions and Comparative Religion in Drew Seminary. It is understood that they have accepted and will offer courses at the Evanston Institution in the fall. Dr. Soper is the son of Dr. Julius Soper, the veteran missionary to Japan, and is a graduate of Dickinson College, Penn. ('98), and Drew Seminary ('05). He taught in Ohio Wesleyan University, 1910-'14, when he became the head of the same department at Drew. He is an exceptionally well-equipped teacher."

EDWIN MURPHY COMING HOME

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Murphy of 421 North Brand boulevard were made very happy recently by the receipt of a letter from their son, Private Edwin Murphy, announcing that he was to leave for home some time in June. The letter had been delayed in transit and was about a month old when it reached them and their joy was intensified when, on the heels of it came a telegram announcing his arrival at Camp Mills. He saw service with the 66th Engineers, an organization later converted into a transportation corps. He will probably be sent to San Francisco to receive his discharge. His brother, Sergt. G. Glen Murphy, who has been serving with the Canadian army, was in England when last heard from, but was expecting to be returned soon. He will probably receive his discharge in Canada, and his parents have no means of knowing when he will get here or what his plans will be after he receives his freedom.

SPORTING WITH THE ELKS

Bert Woodard is having a wonderful time at Atlantic City in attendance on the Elks' Convention as delegate of the Glendale Lodge, of which he is Past Exalted Ruler. He arrived there last Saturday and has not yet had time to write his wife the details of his experiences. The itinerary he has planned for himself after the convention is over is quite extensive. It includes a visit to Boston, a stay of a few days in New York and a trip up the Hudson to Albany, then to Buffalo, Niagara Falls and Cleveland, then to St. Louis, and visits in Kentucky and Tennessee where he has relatives. He will return via San Francisco where he will make a brief stop and be gone about a month.

RED SOX FROLIC

On July 7th the Red Sox had an evening of fun and frolic at the home of Lois Murphy, 421 North Brand boulevard. To date, the Red Sox have taken the lead in the baseball contest being held by the Leaguers of the First Methodist Church of Glendale. The score is based upon the number present at the Sunday evening devotional meetings, and their activities as well as the number of visitors each side brings with them.

The Red Sox cordially invite all young people of Glendale to be their guests next Sunday evening at seven o'clock.

VISITORS FROM TACOMA

Mrs. L. W. Sonntag of 912 East California has had the pleasure of entertaining her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Peterson and daughters Gertrude and Theodora, who arrived last week from Tacoma. They are now at Long Beach for a few days, but will return to Glendale soon when the Sonntag family will visit Mount Lowe with them and take them on other sight-seeing trips. The Petersons are very much in love with California and may decide to locate here permanently. Mrs. Sonntag is busy packing preparatory to moving to the new home she and Mr. Sonntag have purchased at 119 South Glendale avenue from ex-Mayor Woodberry, who is now looking for quarters to rent.

WEATHER FORECAST: Fair except cloudy or foggy tonight and in the early morning near the coast.

PRESIDENT CHALLENGES REFUSAL OF TREATY

DECLARES ITS REJECTION WOULD "BREAK HEART OF THE WORLD" AND DESTROY PRESTIGE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, July 10.—In laying the peace treaty and the covenant of the league of nations before the Senate this morning, President Wilson declared that the world's moral leadership had been offered to the United States, and that the United States cannot reject it without "breaking the world's heart." The president asked:

"Shall we hesitate to accept this great duty? Dare we reject it and break the world's heart? The only question is can we refuse the moral leadership offered us; whether we shall accept or reject the confidence of the world." He declared that without the league of nations covenant, the treaty would be but a "scrap of paper."

The president opened with the declaration that the subject was too great for him to go into details of all the cross currents of politics which the treaty makers encountered. He paid a glowing tribute to the American soldiers to whom he gave credit for the victory. He declared they were men "terrible in battle but gentle and helpful out of it."

In discussing the actual work of making the treaty he said: "Old entanglements stood in the way of peace. It was not easy to graft new ideas of a new order onto the old. Some of the fruits of the grafting may, I fear, be bitter." On the whole, he declared, Europe welcomed American aid in the treaty making as heartily as it welcomed the American armies. He emphatically declared that the treaty meets the requirements of the fourteen points.

In view of America's part in the war and in the making of peace and the attitude of the world toward America, a decision must be made, he said, as to whether the United States shall continue its old policiy of isolation or continue under the league of nations, the task of maintaining the "new order set up in the world of civilized men."

Observers believed that the president was hinting that the United States should take a mandatory under the league over some nation when toward the end of his speech he declared, "Weak peoples everywhere stand ready to give us any authority among them that will assure them friendly oversight and direction."

The president said he would present the Anglo-French-American defensive alliance later.

It took President Wilson thirty-nine minutes to read his speech. Immediately following Senator Borah introduced a resolution asking the president to give the Senate copies of the protests against the Shantung settlement which he said General Tasker H. Bliss sent him on behalf of himself, Secretary Lansing and Peace Commissioner White.

ARRESTS AT BISBEE, ARIZ.

CITIZENS AND MINING COMPANIES CHARGED WITH KIDNAPPING IN CONNECTION WITH DEPORTATIONS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

BISBEE, Arizona, July 10.—Arrests began last night in connection with the criminal prosecution of several hundred Bisbee residents and mining companies charged with kidnapping as an outgrowth the Bisbee deportations of I. W. W.'s in July, 1917. Over two hundred warants have been served thus far.

PRESIDENT EBERT SIGNS FOR GERMANY

DURING DEBATE IN GERMAN NATIONAL ASSEMBLY EVERY SPEAKER DENOUNCED TREATY TERMS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, July 10.—President Ebert of the German government signed the peace treaty last night and it was immediately dispatched via courier to Versailles. The German representatives there formally notified the allies this morning that the treaty had been adopted. During the debate in the German national assembly, every speaker denounced the terms of the treaty as too severe.

ON THE WAY TO IRELAND

WIRELESS FROM R-34 AT 7:10 A. M. SHOWED DIRIGIBLE 500 MILES OUT FROM MINEOLA

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

MINEOLA, July 10.—A wireless from the R-34 at 7:10 this morning (New York time) showed that the British dirigible was 500 miles out from Mineola following a southern course. It left at 11 last night.

PEACE PACT WITH BULGARIA AND TURKEY

U. S. A PARTY THROUGH LEAGUE OF NATIONS THOUGH IT NEVER DECLARED WAR AGAINST THEM

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, July 10.—It was learned today that the United States will be a party to the peace treaty with Bulgaria and Turkey because it is a party to the league of nations, although it never declared war against those countries.

It was also learned that President Wilson considers that the ratification of the peace treaty automatically lifts the German blockade and that he is anxious to have commercial relations resumed.

A LOSING GAME

SUGGESTION THAT ANNEXATION TO L. A. WOULD ROB GLENDALE OF STREET NAMES

"Won't there be a parrot and a monkey time to find out where you're at when Glendale joins Los Angeles!" exclaimed the free lance who pretended to have been "sounding the sentiment of the town on annexation." He grinned broadly for it makes no difference to him whether Glendale joins Sitka or Salt Lake City, or Burbank.

"What do you mean?" was the query of the citizen who has views.

"O nothing," was the calm reply, "but didn't it cost this burg about $1500 to change its civic center, rename some of its streets and renumber them all?" "Yes."

"And wasn't there some kicking about the inconvenience and the sentiment, and all that?" "Yes, but—"

"Well then what do you imagine it will be like if you are annexed to the Angel City and have to throw into the discard all the streets that are duplicated in Los Angeles. The map of your city shows about 133 streets. Now I made a rough comparison with the list of Los Angeles thoroughfares and as near as I can make out after the elimination process had been completed you would have about forty-eight names left or about one-third of what you originally had.

"I myself have heard some 'cussing' on the part of Los Angeles deliverymen who row because they can't locate addresses. Imagine what it will be then! You would lose Adams, Broadway, Central, Cedar, Cypress, California, Fairmont, Fairview, Everett, Garfield, Glendale, Harvard, Howard, Isabel, Ivy, Jackson, Kenwood, Lomita, Lexington, Laurel, Magnolia, Maple, Mariposa, Maryland; Melrose, Myrtle, Oak, Orange, Orange Grove, Pacific, Park, Palmer, Palm Drive, San Rafael, Valley View, Wilson, and a host of others not so prominent. Wow! It would be some job to find your way around."

TO DEVELOP PLACER MINE

C. H. Henry, the city trustee and real estate operator, got back Saturday night from the Mojave Desert where he has about sixty acres of placer gold mining land which he is about to develop. He reports there is an abundance of water and but little more than the building of sluices will be required to handle it. He has owned the land for about twenty years and never done anything with it until now.

COLONIAL HOUSE

HOME OF MR. AND MRS. T. J. KELEHER OF 528 N. LOUISE COMPLETELY REMODELED

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Keleher and daughters, Jerry and Jean, of 528 North Louise street, have just returned from Venice where they have spent two months while their home was being remodeled and converted into a ten-room house of Colonial type. Partitions have been altered, rooms have been added, and it has been newly decorated throughout along artistic lines. It will also be refurnished to a considerable extent and Mrs. Keleher will be exceedingly busy during the coming week making ready for the house-warming she plans to give next Wednesday.

ENTERTAINING FORMER CLASSMATE

Miss Edith Lindsay is entertaining at her home in Hollywood, Miss Romona Towlerton of the famous Morgan Dancers, who are filling a two weeks' engagement in Los Angeles. Miss Towlerton is a society girl of Berkeley, Calif., and an old friend of Miss Lindsay, they having had their early training together in Berkeley and in San Franciso with Mlle. Louise Le Gai. Miss Towlerton has been with the Morgan Dancers for the past year, and while here is demonstrating for Mrs. Morgan at her summer school. Miss Lindsay is enrolled in the school also. Mrs. Lindsay is planning to chaperone the young ladies at Avalon the last week in July, it being the first vacation they have either taken in two years. A delightful time is anticipated. Miss Lindsay will resume her summer classes in Glendale the first Wendesday morning in August.

Mr. and Mrs. David Crofton expect to take possession the first of next week of the new home they have purchased at 208 North Maryland avenue, formerly owned by J. E. Guidinger.

LIEUT. RUSSELL GROSE

NOW ON INACTIVE LIST OF NAVAL RESERVES HE RETURNS TO CIVILIAN LIFE

Lieut. Russell M. Grose, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Grose of East Broadway, is here. He is accompanied by his wife and they are making their headquarters at the home of his sister, in Los Angeles, during their stay which will not be long as they are bound for San Francisco where the Lieutenant will again take up the work in which he was engaged when he enrolled in the naval reserve at the outbreak of the war. At that time he held a very responsible position with a big steamship company. He was thoroughly familiar with transportation problems, having been in the service of the Southern Pacific Railroad previous to his water experience which began with dock work in order to thoroughly familiarize himself with all the details of the business. He was therefore equipped to render service of special value to the navy and was rapidly advanced to Ensign and then to Lieutenant. He made two trips across the Atlantic in the transport service and was then called to Washington to work for the Intelligence Department where he has been engaged for many months. Though still in the naval reserve he is now on the inactive list and ready to take up civilian work again.

While here he is endeavoring to interest naval reserves in a voluntary organization which will keep them in close touch with each other and in close touch with the navy. While not a government movement it has the sanction of the government as it will tend to keep alive the active interest of the thousands of men who have thus served and be a supporting force upon which the government can rely when it has occasion to appeal to their patriotism. The Lieutenant will set the boll rolling in San Diego and San Francisco as well as here.

He says the German navy did not contain as much "junk" as the public has been led to believe although its ships had been robbed of many of their guns because they were more needed on land. But the same thing was true of our own ships which were practically stripped of all defenses except their big guns to provide defensive armament for the transport ships. He also says that it was the Kaiser who displayed the yellow feather and prevented a battle between the German and English fleets. A time was set on a certain date previous to the signing of the armistice when the Kaiser was to accompany the flag ship and give battle to the English. But when the date arrived His Majesty sent word he was not able to go and the fleet refused to sail without him.

Wednesday was the birthday of Mrs. J. L. Grose, of which there was a family celebration that evening in which the Lieutenant and his wife participated. He will probably be a frequent visitor in Glendale during his stay in Southern California, the duration of which is uncertain. He presents a fine figure in his officer's uniform and justifies the great pride his parents have in him.

BIG DAMAGE SUIT

ACTION BROUGHT BY ARTHUR W. JOHNSON AGAINST S. P. TO RECOVER FOR SON'S DEATH

Wednesday the first hearing in a damage suit for $54,000, brought by Arthur W. Johnson of 326 West Cypress avenue, this city, against the Southern Pacific Railroad, was had in the courtroom of Judge Monroe. It was based on the death of Mark T. Johnson, son of the plaintiff, who died from injuries received when the truck he was driving was struck by a Southern Pacific train at a railroad crossing in El Monte.

The deceased was engaged in a wholesale produce business which had grown to large proportions and at the time of his death was specializing in potatoes. He was the mainstay of his father and mother. The contention of the plaintiff is that Mark Johnson was not proprly warned of the approach of the train while the railroad is endeavoring to show that his death was due to his own negligence. Arthur Johnson has resided in Glendale for nine years.

MID-WEEK ATTRACTIONS

The Palace Grand Theatre has two big mid-week attractions in "The Stronger Vow," featuring Geraldine Farrar in a strong emotional drama which will be shown this afternoon and evening besides a screen review of current events and a Bruce mountain trip. Thursday's offering will be Hall Caine's "The Woman Thou Gavest Me," one of the year's greatest pictures.

THE TRIAL OF W. HOHENZOLLERN

From amid the mass of conflictinig reports regarding the proposed trial of one, Wilhelm Hohenzollern, erstwhile Kaiser of Germany, one may gather that he will be tried before an international high court if Holland chooses to surrender him. Washington was at first suggested as the proper place for that trial, but President Wilson objected to the contamination of his presence in this country, so London was chosen.

THE CAT IN THE WAR

There is one thing a cat hates more than she hates dogs, and that is—gas. One whiff of poison gas, scented from the other side of No Man's Land before mere man has got an inkling of what is coming, and up goes her back and her fur stands on end, and she begins to whine her displeasure.

Who it was that first discovered this aversion remains a mystery, but rumor has it that it was someone in the British War Office. So they extend the military service acts to cats.

The stray cats of Britain—and there are many of them, as is shown by the fact that the Royal S. P. C. A. painlessly destroy over 30,000 every year—received their first calling-up notice a couple of years ago. It happened in the form of an advertisement:

"Common cats wanted—any number," which was published in the newspapers.

The contract for the supply of pussy to the army was secured by a London bird dealer, and cats of all sorts soon began to pour into his establishment. No tribunal protected them. If they had no homes of their own, and were sound in wind and limb, they were accepted for military service.

About half a million cats were supplied to the army.

From other sources it is learned of the cat's value as a gas detector. Equally important was her work as a destroyer of rats and vermin—a work in which she excelled and took a lively interest.

She proved very useful in connection with submarine experiments, and frequently went under water in various contrivances in order to test the life-sustaining qualities of the air chambers.

So pussy, at least, has done her bit in the great war.—London Dispatch.

SUMMER MANNERS

When the mercury climbs the steep incline above the 80s is the time we shed our coats and drop such other encumbrances as a liberal minded and sympathetic society approves. It is just as well, nevertheless, that we do not permit the heat to make us doff our manners.

To those whose duty caries them to and fro on the steaming streets there comes the tendency to sullen snappinishness, born of wilted nerves and the trickle of perspiration which sears the skin.

The traffic officer, for example, frayed by his duties, is inclined to regard all passing motorists as potential law breakers; his voice grows harsh and he edges past the strict letter of his duty into the region of the bawl-out, where are found the bloomless meadows of sarcasm and the arid wastes of abuse. This is not as it should be. Similarly the motorist, fretted by suspicion, lets the heat toast his replies, and goes on his way resentful, and, of course, hotter.

There is much difficulty with slow-moving persons at congested crosings; here again impatience with the tired mother piloting a baby across the street leads more frequently than it should to a snarl from the guardian of the roadway; and the tired mother, nervous and affronted, seethes helplessly as she stumbles on her way.

"Manners maketh man" is a very good old proverb. But manners, implying restraint, also make for coolness. There is something closely akin between temper and temperature. The heated street and the busy crossing are good places to experiment with mental refrigeration. Keep the tongue cool and the mouth won't get hot.—Exchange.

When Shakespeare expressed, in an oft-quoted sentence, the truth that a rose by any other name would still be the same object, he apparently did not consider that the other name might be more difficult to spell and pronounce. Just this difficulty is now prominent in America in the matter of the names of citizens, new and old, who derive from foreign ancestry. A rose, one might say, is exactly the same thing as it would be if called a rosothchoveskopouloski; but for everyday purposes the present name is preferable. Judges frequently refuse to sanction a change of name because those already known by it object to this artificial increase of their miscellaneous name-family. The situation is puzzling. Perhaps a solution would be to appoint a commission with full powers to invent a few hundred new and easy names for the use of judges when the inconveniently-named petition for something different.—C. S. Monitor.

VIOLATE WAR MEASURE

(By United Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—All California thirsts are depending on action taken today in San Francisco by U. S. Commissioner Krull when Rudolph Samet and Louis Heinrich, general manager and president of the Rainier Brewing Company appear before him charged with violation of war-time prohibition. Samet and Memrich are charged with violating the war-time dry regulations by manufacturing 2.75 per cent. beer at their brewery here and advertising it for sale. Their case is expected to be the first real test of the validity of the law as it applies to $2.75 per cent. beer. Warrants for the arrest of Samet and Hemrich were issued by Federal Judge Sawtelle upon information submitted by Annette Adams, federal district attorney. Mrs. Adams acted in accordance with orders from Attorney General Palmer.

DIGS UP COIN

(By United Press)

SAN ANDREAS, Cal., July 10.—When Jack Masterson finds the high cost of living bothering him, all he needs do is migrate to the back yard with his spade and pan and dig up as much small change as the occasion demands. A few days back he "panned" $17 in one nugget. The day previous he washed out a pan netting him $2. His home is on the Valley Springs road. His ground is evidently a piece overlooked by the early miners who have taken most of the gold from this vicinity.

Personals

The Glendale Plant & Floral Company is rejoicing over a new arrival in its window aviary hatched this morning.

J. E. Peters is "resting" during his week vacation as salesman for Bishop & Co., by making some changes in his recently acquired property at 209 N. Orange St.

Mrs. C. A. Fromm of 1249 East Wilson avenue spent the week-end at Long Beach with her daughter Flora and son Frederick, who are spending their vacation there.

Mrs. John N. Dew of 1210 Stanley avenue, who has been living in a house on the Sycamore Canyon right of way which the city is about to remove, has moved to 116 North Isabel street.

The son born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kendall of 1034 San Rafael Ave., July 2d, has been named Robert Thomas Kendall. He is a fine, lusty child. His father is leader of the orchestra of the Palace Grand Theatre.

Margaret Nichols of Monte Vista Apartments, entertained at luncheon Tuesday, "The Aldebaran Club" girls. Other guests were Helen and Elsie Skilling of Santa Monica, Frances Jackson of West Wilson Ave., and Mrs. Miles Hale of Long Beach.

J. F. Mallory and wife of 520 West Broadway took a little jaunt of 255 miles in their auto Tuesday, down around San Diego, Vista and Oceanside. They started at 5:30 a. m. and got home in the evening, making several brief stops on the way to look at properties with a view to purchasing.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Houdyshel of 237 North Maryland, their daughters Sadie and Sibyl, are leaving Saturday by rail for Fallon, in the mountains of Nevada, to visit another daughter whose home is there, Mrs. Crowley. En route they will visit friends at Merced, will take in the Yosemite and Lake Tahoe. They expect to be gone a month or more.

Mrs. Alma Hillyard, of Los Angeles, youngest daughter of Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Norton of 801 East Wilson avenue, underwent a critical operation at Thornycroft on Monday. Latest reports from her bedside say her condition is a little improved though her condition is serious. Her little daughter, Phyllis, is staying with her grandparents during her mother's illness.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Booth, 1729 Gardena avenue, South Glendale, entertained over night Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Jacobson and daughter Martha of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, cousins of Mrs. Booth. They own one of the finest farms 25 miles south of Milwaukee, containing 9,000 acres. They are touring this beautiful State of California and they think this the finest climate in the world.

Miss Frances Payne of 646 North Maryland avenue entertained Wednesday afternoon in honor of her two cousins, Misses Mildred and Alice Bingham, of Muncie, Indiana, who, with their father, are spending the month of July in Southern California. The afternoon was devoted to music and to Five Hundred, prizes being won by Mrs. Sidney Brown and Miss Alice McCoy. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the game.

Rev. A. P. DeLong and son Charles of Tarkio, Mo., arrived in our city yesterday, and will visit a few weeks with his daughter, Mrs. E. C. Turner, of 420 Burchett street. Mr. DeLong was at one time a member of the Northwest Indiana Conference. While located there he wrote several books and is considered one of Indiana's best authors. Quite a number of the ministers are using his books. His friends hope he will occupy the pulpit of the First M. E. Church while here.

Mrs. Kingsley, daughter of Dr. Jos. Whytock, of 411 North Jackson street, is looking daily for the return of her husband who landed in New York with other men of the Educational Department of the A. E. F. about a week ago. She expects he will receive his discharge there and come immediately home. His work in the beginning was under the Y. M. C. A., but after the armistice was signed the educational department with which he was connected was taken over by the army.

Mrs. J. L. Grose of 221A East Broadway had a very happy celebration of her birthday on Wednesday when all the living members of her family gathered to spend the evening at her home. These included her son, Lieut. Russell M. Grose, and his wife, who have just arrived from Washington, her daughter, Miss Virginia Grose, of Los Angeles, her niece, Mrs. Hardin, her brother-in-law, W. Scott, and another niece, Mrs. Wells, and daughter, Lenore, all of Los Angeles. Her husband, J. L. Grose, of course assisted in entertaining the family party which was entirely informal.

Members of the committee say they are much encouraged over the approval of the bond issue which many citizens are expressing.

FIRE ON PIONEER DRIVE

Both engines at Fire Station No. 1 responded to a call which came between 12 and 1 o'clock this noon to extinguish a fire on Pioneer Drive, between Central avenue and Columbus. It was in a garage used as a shed by Mr. Stevenson. The building was consumed, also a telephone pole, and a couple of chickens lost their lives. The fire caused considerable excitement in the neighborhood and attracted quite a crowd. Chief Wagnon drove one engine and Fireman Ross the other.

TWILIGHT SERVICE

Members of the Presbyterian congregation are making definite plans for their twilight communion service which will be held Sabbath evening, July 20th. This custom has been in vogue for seven years, and each year the service becomes more attractive and interesting.

Pre-communion services are also being planned to occur July 14-18. Meetings will be held every evening. Friday will be known as "Family night." The general public is invited to any of these special services.

Next Sabbath will be observed as "Vocational day."

J. I. BURGER PASSES

IN FEEBLE HEALTH SEVERAL YEARS, DEATH AT LAST CLAIMS HIM

James I. Burger of 1327 East Harvard departed this life Monday at 1:20 p. m., aged 61 years. Deceased has been a resident of Glendale for two years and leaves beside the wife, Matilda Burger, and son, Wallace Burger, several relatives in the east. He was very highly esteemed in the neighborhood in which he lived and was known for his kindness and honesty in every way.

Funeral services will be held in the parlors of the Jewel City Undertaking Company Friday morning at 10:30. Rev. Ford, of the Baptist Church, will officiate and the remains will be laid to rest in Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

"A Friend" pays the following tribute to his memory:

"After several years of feeble health and weary waiting, most of the time in pain, but ever cheerful and patient, the hour of final farewell to the world came at 1:20 Tuesday afternoon, July 8, 1919, and the spirit of J. I. Burger rose on pinions of light, to the beautiful gate, where loved ones were waiting and watching for his ransomed soul. Mr. Burger was born Dec. 25, 1857, in Glenwood, Mills county, Iowa, where he lived his useful life until four years ago, when he moved to California, making Glendale his home. He leaves a wife and seven children. All the children were from the first marriage. Only one son was here when the end came, Wallace, who, a year ago, came to be with his father, whose health was rapidly failing then. Mr. Burger was salesman for an aluminum company. He combined business tact with educational accomplishments and labored on at his work with indomitable energy. He was well known and had many friends. His loved ones should not mourn for him as they would a tiny bud of humanity. In the natural course of time the end was inevitable. And those left behind can find consolation in Holy Writ. They may join him in the house of many mansions in the glory world."

RUINS OF CHURCHES IN WAKE OF HUNS

From CARL A. RANDAU
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS. (By Mail).—Over 3,000 churches were either completely destroyed or seriously damaged by the German invasion of Northern France. The state in which these martyred churches now are found varies from those that have been absolutely wiped out to others which suffered only the damages of occasional stray shells.

The work of restoring the churches has begun. The first annual general assembly of the Society to Restore the Churches of the Devastated Regions was held in Paris recently. At that time Vicar Odelin of Paris reported that over $265,000 had been expended in beginning the work of restoration. He stated that sixty-three churches have been adopted by individuals who will personally bear all the expenses involved in the work of rebuilding. Help has come, said the Vicar, from the United States, from Brazil, from India, in fact, every nation of the Allied world is helping France counteract the work of the destroyer.

Some of the churches will never be restored. Some are gone, completely shot to bits, leaving barely a trace of their former location. Others, famous cathedrals such as those of Rheims and Amiens, may be left as they now stand as a warning to posterity and as an indelible record of the savagery of the past five years.

In importance, architectural beauty and size the ruined cathedrals and churches vary from the stately ruin of Rheims, which will always symbolize the barbarity of the Huns, to the little country churches.

Beside the mound which figured day after day in the war communiques as "Hill 304," in the midst of what used to form the quiet village of Esnes, just to the right of Verdun, stood the little church. It was almost demolished by the terrible effect of the artillery during the Verdun struggle of 1916, but until late in the summer of 1917 the altar of the church still stood unscathed. The roof and walls of the church had long since been shot away, but the weather-beaten, unprotected altar continued to give solitary evidence of the former presence of a house of worship. Today nothing remains. But the little church of Esnes is only one of a great number which will never be restored.

SUGAR FOR COAL

(By United Press)

PRAGUE, Czecho-Slovakia. By Mail).—Sugar has been a powerful bargaining commodity for the Czecho-Slovaks. The territory controlled by the Czecho-Slovaks has been one of the greatest sugar beet regions in the world. The new republic was quick to recognize this, and also saw the need of satisfying Europe's sweet tooth. By trading sugar for coal and other supplies, the Czecho-Slovaks have been able to get fuel for sugar factories, mostly closed during the war by Austrian order. The sugar factories were the first to be started, and the great supply of beets that has been growing, is being turned into sugar for Europe.

SO HE DIDN'T DIE

(By United Press)

LONDON. (By Mail).—The housing problem is one that confronts not only Londoners but the inhabitants even of the smaller villages throughout England.

In one Midland village recently, when the news spread that one of the old inhabitants was likely to die, no less than six people went in one day to the landlord to "bespoke" the cottage.

The old man heard what had happened and at once began to get better.

MONEY AND LIVES GIVEN BY THE FRENCH NURSES

By HENRY WOOD

(United Press Correspondent)

PARIS. (By Mail).—Forty-five women nurses of the Union des Femmes de France lost their lives either on the field of battle, in bombarded hospitals or as the result of diseases contracted in their work, during the course of the war, according to the final report of the society on its entire war activities.

The "Union des Femmes de France," corresponds very much to the American Red Cross, except that its membership is limited entirely to women and all of the work carried on during the war was done purely by women, with no material or manual help from men and very little financial help outside of money raised by the women members themselves.

The final report of the society is therefore a remarkable tribute to the role played by the French women in the Red Cross part of the war.

Out of a total of 90,000 members (all women) over 60,000 dedicated their entire time to the various establishments founded and conducted by the society during the war. These included 365 auxiliary hospitals, and scores of nurseries, dispensaries, soldiers' homes and canteens, schools for the re-education of mutilated soldiers, and tuberculosis camps.

Over 20,000 members of the society served as nurses and it was amongst these that the entire casualty list of 45 members was recruited.

The Society raised by its own efforts and expended some 95,000,000 francs ($19,000,000), an average of over $200 for each member of the society.

STATE NEWS

(By United Press)

LOS ANGELES, July 9.—California's summer tourist crop will be double that of last year, railroad men predicted today. Not only is the east sending 100 per cent. greater crowd of visitors to the west this year, but the interior of California is yielding in greater numbers to the lure of the seashore. As a result hotels at beach and near-beach cities are becoming crowded and the bathing suit market is saved from disaster due to scarcity of suits only by the constantly decreasing amount of material required. Bakersfield, Tulare and Fresno are the heaviest contributors thus far to the Southern California beach crowds, but the Imperial Valley is finishing with a rush which has required an average of one extra coach on each arriving train during the last two weeks. Arizona is doing its share. Beginning a week ago it has been necessary to add from one to three extra coaches to every train from Phoenix to this city. New Mexico and Texas also are producing unusual numbers of visitors to California.

LOS ANGELES, July 9.—A prohibition mystery now envelopes the Los Angeles police department. It started when George Phillips was arrested at San Pedro for having 26 quarts of whiskey in a place of public resort. When he was arraigned there were but 25 quarts in evidence. A few days later the ante-room of Judge Chambers' court was broken into and only eight quarts were left behind. The court ordered them stored at the University police station. Two days later someone counted bottles. They numbered six. These were produced in evidence at Phillips' trial. He was acquitted. Now he's sueing Chief of Police Butler for $300 for the loss of the whiskey.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 9.—Following a successful campaign to secure a clear water supply for Sacramento a ten-million-dollar building program is announced today by the Chamber of Commerce for the city. The structures include two big capitol extension buildings, a great packing plant, a government warehouse, a ten-story department store and mail order house, an eighteen-story bank, business and office building and the filtration and pumping plant. "The voting of the clear water supply," says Secretary H. S. Maddox of the Chamber of Commerce, "was the key that turned the lock and opened the door to progress for Sacramento."

LONDON.—Complaining that soldiers billeted on him had stolen his gramaphone, a Welsh householder was asked if that was the only thing he had lost. "Well, my wife. But the gramaphone cost fifty-five dollars."

DO YOUR BEST AND LEAVE THE REST

(By F. Booth)

As through life you journey onward
Many a hill you'll have to climb;
Many a rough and dangerous pathway,
You'll encounter time and time
Now and then a gleam of sunshine,
Will bring hope to cheer your breast;
Then press onward—ever trusting,—
Do your best and leave the rest.

Though your progress may be hindered,
By false friends or bitter foes;
And the goal for which you're striving,
Seems so far away,—who knows?
You may yet have strength to reach it,
E'er the sun sinks in the west;
Ever striving,—still undaunted;—
Do your best and leave the rest.

If you fail, as thousands must do,
You will still have cause for pride;
You will have advanced much further,
Than if you had never tried.
Never falter but remember,
Life is not a foolish jest,
You are in the fight to win it,
Do your best and leave the rest.

If at last your strength should fail you
And your struggles have proved vain;
There is One who will sustain you;—
Soothe your sorrow,—ease your pain.
He has seen your earnest striving,
And your efforts shall be blest;
For He knows, that you, though failing,
Did your best,—He'll do the rest.
